Tips for submitting a compelling session proposal:

- Your session should appeal to a broad range of attendees in an engaging way. SSP Annual Meeting attendees value networking opportunities, insight into new developments, and practical applications they can use to advance their careers. Attendees include executives, editors, salespersons, marketing and product managers, librarians, technologists, vendors, academics, and more. With this year's specific focus on new perspectives, the best proposals will appeal to new audience segments and/or groups that have historically been less represented at publishing events, as well.
- Concurrent sessions should promote audience engagement, ideally throughout. Pre-meeting seminars must involve participants actively.
- We will NOT consider concurrent session or pre-meeting seminar submissions that are focused on a single solution, a single organization, or material that is commercial in nature. Such content is more appropriate for the 5-minute previews session or for sponsored sessions.
- SSP deeply values the provision of a variety of viewpoints from an inclusive pool of speakers. Session speakers must reflect diversity of geography, race, and cultural background as much as possible. We strongly encourage gender balance in particular. Single-speaker concurrent sessions or pre-meeting seminars will NOT be considered.
- The strongest proposals will include the voices of key stakeholders (researchers/academics, librarians, students), will cross formats (books, journals, etc.), and will include perspectives across STEM, social sciences, and humanities.
- For concurrent sessions, your submission must be in by the November 16 deadline! Our committee will begin reviewing proposals immediately after this deadline, so we regret that we cannot accept late submissions this year. Please see the submission guidelines for all the important deadlines.
- Please be sure to reach out to Jennifer Lanphere at janphere@kellencompany.com if you have any questions while submitting a session proposal.

Information required for your submission:

SUBMISSION TYPE

There are four possible types of session proposals. Submitters must select their session type at the beginning of the submission process for each proposal. This cannot be changed once you confirm your selection. Organizers are permitted to submit more than one proposal or proposal type:

- Concurrent session: 60 or 90 minutes in length, held on May 30 and 31. Concurrent sessions are designed for multiple speakers to present a specific topic that will benefit SSP attendees. Successful proposals will include concrete plans for interactivity, the inclusion of new voices, a diverse panel (with respect to gender, race, background, organization type, subject area), and clear learning objectives for the audience.
Pre-meeting seminar: These three-hour educational sessions are held on May 29, prior to the main conference, providing an opportunity for attendees to learn more about a topic for an additional fee. These sessions should be instructive and highly interactive, with a deep dive into a topic and specific take-home benefits for participants.

- 5-minute preview session: Brief, back-to-back presentations given during a plenary on Friday morning, May 31, showcasing new products, platforms, and/or content from publishers and vendors. Preview session submissions will be accepted at a later date. Keep an eye out for an announcement from SSP!
- Sponsored session: Each session is 45 minutes in length; up to 4 sessions may run concurrently; space can accommodate up to 50 attendees; held in the afternoon on Wednesday, May 29. These sessions offer value by means of education, information, or professional development to attendees. Fees apply.
 - Organizers may share information about a product or service, but sessions will be most effective if presenting case studies/use cases, customer testimonials, timely information about industry issues, best practices, innovative solutions to everyday challenges, roundtable discussions, etc.
 - Sponsored sessions can also be used to facilitate a focus group, user group session, market research, or product demonstration if space is available. However, sessions of this nature will not be rated as highly as those that offer educational and/or professional development value to attendees.
 - No more than 12 proposals will be selected.
 - The Annual Meeting Program Committee will select which sessions offer the most value to attendees.
 - These sessions are free to any registered attendee, unless you select the invitation only sponsorship type. SSP cannot guarantee attendance at sponsored sessions.
 - Sponsored Session Options/ Pricing:
 - Open to all attendees: $2950, exhibitors/sponsors=$2360
 - Invitation only: $3950, exhibitors/sponsors=$3160
 - For more information about sponsored sessions, click here.
