ANNUAL MEETING WEBSITE

Join us May 31 – June 2, 2023 for the Society for Scholarly Publishing 45th Annual Meeting

The pace of change in our industry continues unabated, with seismic shifts in areas such as the dissemination of research, business models, and the nature of the workplace. And yet, while pressure for change has become the new normal, fundamental change has proved more elusive. We invite you to join us in highlighting the trust and transparency issues that underlie many of the challenges we face and exploring what it takes to create more meaningful transformation in scholarly publishing.

The meeting will be held in Portland with a virtual attendance option, including live and on-demand content. The health and safety of our attendees is a prime concern, and we will monitor and be ready to modify plans as needed.

As always, the SSP community brings together academics, funders, librarians, publishers, service providers, technologists, and countless others with a collective interest and stake in disseminating scholarly information. We look to the 45th Annual Meeting as an opportunity to continue this tradition and welcome all colleagues and community stakeholders, old and new.

All individual members and staff of organizational members receive the member discount to attend the Annual Meeting.

Code of Conduct

The Society for Scholarly Publishing (SSP) is a community-run organization committed to diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility. This includes providing a safe, welcoming, and productive environment that fosters open dialogue and the free expression of ideas, free of harassment, discrimination, and hostile conduct, at SSP meetings and events, whether held in-person or in a virtual format. We have a shared responsibility for creating and maintaining that environment for the benefit of all.

SSP is committed to supporting equitable opportunities and respectful treatment for all participants in our activities, regardless of gender, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, physical or mental ability, disability, age, physical appearance, race, ethnicity, religion, political affiliation, nationality, or any other protected characteristics. We seek to be a welcoming community in which you can consider and debate a range of relevant viewpoints respectfully and inclusively. View full policy HERE.

Attend the SSP 45th Annual Meeting

SSP's meeting is the premier multidisciplinary education event in scholarly publishing. Engage with experts and thought leaders at this three-day education and networking event!

- Twenty-four educational sessions over two days led by top industry experts complementing an insightful keynote speaker are the heart of the SSP Annual Meeting;
- The SSP Previews session with lightning-round presentations of new technologies and products;
- Industry breakout sessions with more opportunities to meet and learn; and
- Poster sessions highlighting case studies and best practices in publishing.

Why Attend?

The SSP Annual Meeting is the focal point for those engaged in scholarly communication. The meeting provides the highest standard in professional communication by bringing professionals together in an open exchange of the newest technical information and ideas.

Who Should Attend?

SSP Annual Meeting attendees include professionals in the various sectors concerned with scholarly publishing, including publishers, technology providers, scholars, librarians, database producers, funders, and other stakeholders.

Double Trouble: Inappropriate Image Duplications in Biomedical Publications

Elisabeth Bik, PhD

Science Consultant, Harbors-Bik LLC

Elisabeth Bik, PhD is a Dutch-American microbiologist who has worked for 15 years at Stanford University and two years in industry. Since 2019, she has been a science integrity volunteer and consultant who scans the biomedical literature for images or other data of concern and has reported over 6,000 scientific papers. She can often be found discussing science papers on Twitter at @MicrobiomDigest, writing for her blog ScienceIntegrityDigest, or searching the biomedical literature for inappropriately duplicated or manipulated photographic images and plagiarized text. Her work has been featured in Nature, Science, the New Yorker, the New York Times, Washington Post, the Guardian, and The Times (UK). Her work has resulted in over 900 retracted and another 900 corrected papers. For her work on exposing threats to research integrity, she received the 2021 John Maddox Prize.

Featured Plenaries

Thursday, June 1

The Evolving Knowledge Ecosystem

In this plenary panel session, hear from industry leaders as they talk about the societal and economic pressures driving our industry today and what they tell us about the future. This candid discussion will address some of the most exciting opportunities and the greatest challenges shaping the present and future of scholarly communication. The session will engage with the ways leading companies are addressing these issues and changes and what your organization might want to consider as you plan for the future of your programs.

Friday, June 2

Moderated Debate

Artificial Intelligence will Fatally Undermine the Integrity of Scholarly Publishing

This Oxford-style debate will see two teams debating a resolution related to AI's role in scholarly publishing, with the winner based on audience votes before and after the debate. Don't miss this exciting final session for the conference, where your participation will decide the outcome!

Community Service Project

Making a Difference

At this year's Annual Meeting, SSP is supporting local Portland non-profit, Street Books.

What is Street Books?

Street Books is a bicycle-powered mobile library, serving people who live outside in Portland. Street Books librarians set up shifts around the city of Portland at the same time and place each week. Patrons are issued an official Street Books library card without being required to show proof of address or identification. If they don't cross paths with patrons again, there are no fees or fines, and folks are encouraged to pass the books on to others who will enjoy them.

Learn more at: StreetBooks.org

How you can help!

Please bring new or used paperback books in the following genres to donate to Street Books at the Annual Meeting.

NOTE: Hardback books are not accepted!

1. Fiction—literary, westerns, science fiction, horror, and thrillers.
2. Work by underrepresented writers—books by BIPOC and LGBT writers.
3. Nonfiction including history, spirituality, self-help, wilderness survival, foraging, herbal guides, etc.
4. Spanish language—fiction, poetry, nonfiction, children's books.

Street Books also accepts donations of new or gently used reading glasses.

Meeting Highlights

Industry Breakout Sessions

Your registration includes additional opportunities to learn about industry challenges and solutions on Wednesday afternoon in these 30-minute sessions. Plan to arrive by noon on May 31 to take advantage of this content provided by industry knowledge experts.

Networking

Attendees will enjoy ample opportunities to meet colleagues and share ideas at evening receptions, facilitated discussions, and other events.

Exhibitors Marketplace

The SSP Annual Meeting allows attendees to explore new ideas, products, services, and technology. Our exhibitors are committed to supporting SSP's membership and invite you to visit their booths, ask questions, and take advantage of their expertise.

Poster Session

Posters provide an avenue to share additional content with attendees and lead to more in-depth and interactive information exchanges than is possible in educational sessions. Check out the posters throughout the Annual Meeting and the dedicated poster presentation sessions.

Virtual Attendance

Can't join us in Portland? Then the Virtual Registration Option is for you! While there is nothing quite like attending the Annual Meeting in person, we recognize that not everyone has the opportunity or ability to travel. As a result, we are excited to offer virtual attendees this opportunity to stay current on the latest industry topics alongside in-person attendees. Virtual attendance provides the perfect opportunity for industry professionals to attend the SSP 45th Annual Meeting on their terms.

All keynotes, plenary sessions, and selected educational sessions will be streamed live May 31 – June 2, 2023.

Live stream will include speakers and any presentation materials. Virtual attendees can submit questions to speakers during these sessions via a chat facilitator, so you'll feel like you're right in the room! Chat in real-time with other virtual and in-person attendees via the virtual meeting platform for online networking. Several additional online networking opportunities will also be available for virtual attendees.

Recordings of all other sessions in the program will be available on demand in the meeting platform within 48 hours after the session occurs. The meeting platform will also contain posters and a complete attendee list.

Register & Donate

When you register securely online, you can also donate to the SSP Generations Fund. The success of a career is dependent on many things. As an experienced scholarly communications professional, you know that a key contributor is the network you build around yourself. Help build a vibrant support network for future professionals with your registration gift, which will benefit SSP's Fellowship, Mentoring, and Diversity & Inclusion programs. LEARN MORE!

Health & Safety

SSP prioritizes the health and safety of all attendees, staff, and exhibitors by respecting and complying with hotel, local, state, and federal restrictions, mandates, guidelines, and protocols regarding infectious diseases. Given the evolving nature of community levels of infectious diseases, SSP will continue to monitor any changes in these restrictions, mandates, guidelines, and protocols. We reserve the right to implement additional measures to ensure compliance and optimal health and safety conditions in all environments where in-person interactions occur during the Annual Meeting.

VACCINATION

Attendees are highly encouraged to be vaccinated and boosted against COVID-19 and to test before traveling.

MASKS

Attendees are encouraged to wear masks in indoor spaces where they cannot maintain a safe distance. Please respect others' choices for social interaction or personal protection measures.

WAIVER

Attendees must digitally sign a waiver acknowledging they understand that an inherent risk of exposure to infectious diseases exists at the meeting.

Registration Information

Please take a moment to review the following registration policies and procedures to avoid any delays in your registration processing for the 2023 Annual Meeting.

Registration Fees

Registration for the SSP Annual Meeting includes general sessions, concurrent educational sessions, Industry Breakout sessions, entry to the Exhibitors Marketplace, breakfasts and lunches on Thursday and Friday, and receptions on Wednesday and Thursday.

One-day registrants may attend the events as mentioned for that day only.

Registration fees are based on your SSP membership status. Your membership must be current to receive discounted member registration rates. You may join or renew immediately before registering for the meeting.

Registration Form Completion

Online registration is easy at www.sspnet.org. If you prefer to register by mail, complete all sections of the registration form and return it to SSP via mail/email. Complete one form per registrant. Registrations are not accepted over the telephone. Students must include a copy of their student identification with their registration form to receive the student registration rate. If you are under 18, a parent must sign the parent/guardian consent on the registration form.

Membership

Not an SSP member? Why wait? Join SSP now and save over $100 on your registration fees for the Annual Meeting. Go to the SSP website at www.sspnet.org and join more than 1,000 industry professionals who have made SSP the premier organization for those in the scholarly communication field. Already a member but haven't renewed? You can join or renew your membership while you register for the meeting.

Payment

Payment in full must be submitted at the time you register. Fees may be paid in US dollars (payable to SSP) by check, American Express, VISA, Discover, or MasterCard. Registrations received after Friday, May 26, 2023, will be processed on-site.
